

WHERE WOULD WE BEE
WITHOUT POLLINATORS?

SOIL & WATER CONSERVATION WEEK

Sunday, April 26th –
Sunday, May 3rd 2020

Below are ways to celebrate:

- As Sweet as Honey!

Post some fun recipes on your Facebook page or website that use honey as a star ingredient and challenge others to post their creations!

- Utilize NACD & CDI Materials!

Visit the link HERE for free promotional materials to download and print in house or at your local print shop to distribute in your county. Visit the link HERE to download additional resources and activities available from NACD. Use these materials in your county and share them with your partners.

- Spread the Word!

Call your local radio and schedule a live or recorded interview with commissioners or staff. Topics for the commissioners could include how they became interested in being a commissioner, what their primary role as a commissioner is, outreach activities with their local schools, and how others can get involved! Potential topics for staff could be programs or other topics producers/community are interested in. Submit articles newspaper, environmental/commodity publication or news station and talk about soil and water conservation. Use the talking points provided.

- Let us know about how your spreading the buzz!

Email Media@iowaagriculture.gov and admin@cdiowa.org to let us know how your celebrating! Events and additional resources are available HERE.

- Submit your pics!

Post your pictures of bees, pollinators, CRP, or send them to media@iowaagriculture.gov and we will post them!

Don't Forget to put in your nominations for the 2020 Iowa Farm Environmental leader awards!
